Talk on the Geology of Stafford

On Monday 19th February Gnosall Heritage Group have arranged a talk and presentation by Paul Green on 'The Geology of Stafford'. This will take place in the Grosvenor Centre, High Street, Gnosall at 7.30pm. Entry is free of charge and everyone is welcome.

In September 2016 the same speaker gave a talk to the Heritage Group about the geology of Gnosall and the surrounding area. Keith Abbott, Chairman of the Group, said: "The first talk gave us a fascinating insight into the historical geology of Gnosall. We look forward to welcoming the speaker Paul Green back again. I am sure it will be an interesting evening."

The talk will cover such topics as the solid geology of Stafford, in other words the underlying rocks, and the superficial geology, or what is on the surface, as well as the way the Ice Age has shaped the local landscape.

Gnosall Heritage Group is a constituted voluntary group which is supported by Gnosall Parish Council. It has been involved in a number of local projects recently, including archaeological surveys.
